2. Section 44475.2 information:

JPMorganChase has set decarbonization targets, and reports on its progress, to (1) source renewable energy for 100% of its global power needs annually and (2) reduce Scope 1 and Scope 2 (location-based) greenhouse gas ("GHG") emissions by 40% by 2030 vs. a 2017 baseline. Information on these targets and interim progress towards them can be found in JPMorganChase's annual Climate Report at <https://www.jpmorganchase.com/content/dam/jpmc/jpmorgan-chase-and-co/documents/Climate-Report-2024.pdf> (pp. 23 – 24).

An independent third party performs a limited assurance engagement over JPMorganChase's GHG emissions reporting annually; the most recent assurance report can be found at <https://www.jpmorganchase.com/content/dam/jpmc/jpmorgan-chase-and-co/documents/2023-operational-ghg-emissions-and-electric-power-use.pdf> (pp. 2 – 3) (the "Third-Party Assurance Report"). While the Third-Party Assurance Report covers total Scope 1 and Scope 2 emissions, verified carbon offsets, and purchased renewable electricity, the Third-Party Assurance Report does not cover JPMorganChase's calculated interim progress toward the targets referenced above.

In addition, JPMorganChase has set nine interim 2030 portfolio-level net zero-aligned targets for eight sectors — Oil & Gas, Electric Power, Auto Manufacturing, Aviation, Shipping, Iron & Steel, Cement and Aluminum. These targets are aligned with the International Energy Agency Net Zero Emissions by 2050 Scenario (IEA NZE). The sector-specific methodologies, including boundaries, metrics used to calculate emission intensity, and data sources for each sector, are available in JPMorganChase's Carbon Compass® methodology at <https://www.jpmorgan.com/solutions/investment-banking/center-for-carbon-transition/carbon-compass>. Information concerning interim progress toward the targets, as well as the data challenges we face and the steps we are taking to address them, is available in JPMorganChase's most recent Climate Report at <https://www.jpmorganchase.com/content/dam/jpmc/jpmorgan-chase-and-co/documents/Climate-Report-2024.pdf>. Information related to these targets and reported progress has not been verified by an independent third party.
